• CLASS ORATION •

Today for the second time within twenty-five years the United States is at war. We are a peace-loving nation and desire conflict with no one, but when a knife was thrust in our back, we awoke and girded ourselves for a long, tedious battle. In this war we are fighting for our very existence; if we lose, we shall be at the mercy of the most ruthless butchers the world has ever known.

Ever since the Bill of Rights was added to our Constitution, we have enjoyed the privilege of being free men. Today, our freedom is being challenged by a paper hanger who says: "We, as the true chosen people, shall become the masters of the earth." Such a challenge, threatening slavery to all peoples, strikes at the very foundations of our national and international life.

The right to freedom of the press, religion, and assembly may be only phrases to unthinking Americans, but there is not one to whom the actual practice of these things is not precious. Imagine what it would mean to read a newspaper which you knew was filled with deliberate lies. Imagine how you would feel, if you had to go to church furtively — if you dared to go at all — fearing punishment from the authorities. In what country in Europe could I, a student from this graduating class, stand before you, free to express my uncensored opinion? In Poland, where boys have been ruthlessly slaughtered? In Czechoslovakia? In Norway? In France?

The road to victory will not be an easy one, as we have already witnessed. We have suffered numerous costly defeats at the hands of the Japs. But our government is not asleep; it is mobilizing for the blow that will rid the world of tyranny. To prevent inflation, a ceiling has been placed on retail prices; to insure fair distribution of goods in which there is a scarcity, sugar and gasoline have been rationed. To combat shortages of labor caused by drafting of young men into the army, an enormous registration of all available man power has been undertaken. A tremendous military machine has been built up and is constantly increasing. In this war for freedom there are no spectators. Every man, woman, and child must make sacrifices, if we are to continue our present way of life.

We are fighting for civilization — for the right to live decent, self-respecting lives with freedom under the law. We are fighting not only for ourselves and our descendants but for all mankind. The outcome of this struggle, we know, will depend, in part, on our having an overwhelming superiority in arms, ships, planes, and men. But it will also be determined in great measure by our attitude. Napoleon stated that in the time of war the ratio of morale to physical force is 3 to 1, but our Chief of Staff, General Marshall, says that it should be not 3 to 1, but 6 to 1. The Italians surrendered in Lybia, not because the English had more men and better equipment, but they, the Italians, had nothing to fight for. The French, who had the world's best trained army, did not have the morale to withstand the cracking of the Maginot line.

We have scarcely begun to realize just what "blood, sweat, and tears" this war will cost us. Yet when has America been afraid? Out of the bleakness of Valley Forge came a country that for 167 years has been a haven for the oppressed.

We of the graduating class are conscious of the gravity of the situation in the world into which we are entering. We are ready to do our part in winning this war. We are eager to help shape the world after the war. In the words of President Roosevelt we realize: "The defense of religion, of democracy and good faith among nations, is all the same fight. To save one we must make up our minds to save all".

H I S T O R Y

[Scene shows Lorraine Ardizoni, Louise Mandirol and Ruth Phelps in the midst of picnic activities. Modern swing music is playing on a Vic, Honey is looking for records, and Chuddy and Phelpie are playing ball.]

HONEY: "Well, for Heaven's sake, kids! Look what I found!" [looking for records]

PHELPIE: "Oh! Did you find 'ALWAYS' by Irving Berlin?"

HONEY: "No, this is better than that."

CHUDDY: "Well, what is it? 'Deep in the Heart of Texas?'"

HONEY: "It's that album of records about our class."

PHELPIE: "Well, I guess those are better than 'ALWAYS' or any popular record. Say, let's play one."

HONEY: "It begins with the Sophomore record!"

CHUDDY: "That's because nothing happened in our Freshman Year."

PHELPIE: "Well, I don't know who the officers were. I can only remember that Arthur Gallerani was president."

CHUDDY: "Well, Clayton Atwater was treasurer and Ruth Raison secretary."

HONEY: "Shirley Spring was vice-president. But let's listen to the Sophomore Record."

[Honey plays record]

[Record begins, people talking and moving—there is a rapping on desk]

ART: "Will the meeting please come to order." [quieting down]

CHUDDY: [to others] "That's Art again and Sam Grimaldi was vice-president, remember?"

ART: "Ruth Raison will please read the secretary's report."

"On March 18th the Sophomore Class held a meeting for the purpose of planning for the class party. The meeting, after being called to order by the president, continued with the reading of the secretary's report which, receiving no corrections was accepted as read. Immediately after the treasurer's report, by George Guidi, nominations were open for the various committee chairmen. Our president, Arthur Gallerani, was elected the general chairman with the following people serving as his helpers: Program, Shirley Spring; Refreshments, Lorraine Harpin; Decorations, Shirley Linnehan. After having decided the date for the party to be April 19, the meeting was adjourned at 1:00 p. m."

Respectfully submitted,

Ruth Raison,

Secretary.

ART: "The purpose of this meeting was to let the class know who is on the committees for the Sophomore Party and to tell you all to be sure and come. Now it's time for lunch; so will someone make a motion that the meeting be adjourned."

"Mr. President"

ART: "

"I move that the meeting be adjourned."

ART: "Is that seconded?"

": "I second the motion."

ART: "The meeting is adjourned." [noisy kids going to lunch.]

CHUDDY: "Well, that's the end of that record."

HONEY: "Yea, what are you looking for Phelpie?"

PHELPIE: "Well, we made a record of the Sophomore Party, didn't we?"

HONEY: "Oh, yes? The Vegetable Jamboree."

PHELPIE: "Here it is."

CHUDDY: "Listen!"

[Kids talking and moving and running around—breaking balloons—music in background—then quieting down]

ART: "We are gathered here tonight for the highlight of our Sophomore Year, the class party. I hope you all brought your vegetables in order to get in. Did you Miss Dickerman?"

MISS DICKERMAN: "Yes. Didn't you see the carrot I brought."

ART: "And you, Miss Hastings."

MISS HASTINGS: "I thought I wouldn't get in the door without my vegetable, but when they saw it was an onion they almost pushed me through."

ART: "O.K. Gang. We go to our games now, and at 11 o'clock we'll go to the lunchroom for refreshments."

[Noise]

[People saying Goodnite et cetera]

ART: "Well, Mr. Langlois, did you and Mrs. Langlois have as good a time as all the Sophomores seemed to have?"

MR. LANGLOIS: "I'm sure it'll be a Red-letter day for the both of us."

ART: "Well, 'Nite"

MR. LANGLOIS: "So-long, Art."

[record ends leaving girls sitting in a daze.]

CHUDDY: "Hey, grab that record."

PHELPIE: "Oh! Heavens!" [doing so]

HONEY: "Boy, that seems as real as though it were tonight."

CHUDDY: "How about it, Kids, didn't we have one for the Junior year?"

HONEY: "We must have."

CHUDDY: "Sure, here it is."

[Record begins where group of students are returning from the first meeting of the Junior Class.]

— "Wasn't our first Junior meeting a success! Gee, Arthur Gallerani has been elected President for the third consecutive year."

— "Yes, and Ruth Raison will be serving our class as secretary for her third year."

— "Who was elected vice-president and treasurer?"

— "The Vice-President is Lorraine Harpin and our Treasurer is George Guidi."

[Record goes off]

PHELPIE: "Gee, don't you think our Junior year was fun—let's listen to some more events."

HONEY: "This is where a group of dancers are discussing the Cabaret."

CHUDDY: "Let's listen kids."

[Record—with dance music in background]

— "Aren't the decorations effective—that black cat and those candles on the table certainly do add a lot to the attraction."

— "That music by Ray Sparrow's orchestra certainly is smooth."

— "Gee all the juniors are here—everyone is having the time of his life."

[Record goes off]

CHUDDY: "That certainly was a high-light in every junior's school days."

HONEY: "I don't think I'll ever forget it."

[Phelpie looking through records]

PHELPIE: "Look, kids, here's a record we made when we were cheerleaders."

HONEY: "Gee, I almost forgot that we were cheerleaders that year."

CHUDDY: "Put it on Phelpie."

[Record begins]

——: "Hi kids—where you headed for?"
——: "Chud and I are going out to watch the football scrimmage—we want to see some of the boys in our class perform."
——: "Oh, I'll come along; I haven't seen any of our class in action—By the way who's on the team?"
——: "Well, Chuck Tyler and Noel Brown and Gordon Jones along with Sam Grimaldi see a great deal of action. And of course Ed Mason and Fred Jeser-ski play on the team."

——: "I certainly am proud to have members of our class play on a team that has won the championship of Western Mass."

——: "Here come the rest of the gang. Let's practice a few cheers."

[Cheer is given and record fades out]

PHELPIE: "Those were the good old days."

[Honey picks up record]

CHUDDY: "What's that you got there?"

HONEY: "A record of the most important event in every Junior's year."

PHELPIE: "Of course, you must mean the Junior Prom."

HONEY: "This is a record that tells of the decorating committee getting ready for the big affair—Shirley Linnehan is in charge."

CHUDDY: "Let's hear it, Honey."

[Honey puts it on]

[Record]

——: "It certainly is a lot of work to decorate this auditorium for the Junior Prom. I do hope everyone likes the decorations."

——: "Like them! Why there supercalafigilisticsisprelladochas! This may-time effect with the maypole and all is certainly a swell idea."

——: "You're coming to the Prom aren't you?"

——: "Certainly I wouldn't miss the highlight of my Junior year for any-thing."

——: "I'm glad we're having Ray Sparrow's orchestra—they certainly do play swell music."

——: "Who are the heads of the other committees?"

——: "Well—General Chairman is George Guidi; Refreshments, Shirley Spring; Tickets and Invitations, Ruth Raison; Ushers, Ruth Hauff; and I'm the head of the decorations committee."

[Record ends]

CHUDDY: "Gee, that was the final affair of a swell year. But let's go on to the most important of all—our Senior year—the last year of our dear old school days."

[Record begins]

[Two girls talking before school]

——: "Gosh! We've got about five minutes before school starts. Not enough time to do any homework."

——: "Say, aren't you glad we've chosen Charles Tyler as President?"

——: "Yes, He's an excellent speaker and will be able to conduct a class meet-ing successfully."

——: "If he is ever absent, Ruth Phelps, Vice-president, will be able to take over the meeting very efficiently."

——: "We couldn't ask for better officers than Lorraine Harpin, as Secretary, and Roland Swanson as Treasurer."

——: "And aren't we lucky to have such good advisers as Mr. Langlois, Miss Dickerman and Miss Benotti."

——: "There goes the bell. I have to go to my homeroom now. Remember save me a seat at lunch."

[Pause in the record]

CHUDDY: "We certainly started the year with a bang."

PHELPIE: "Quiet! Let's listen to the rest of the record."

LUNCH HOUR

[Clatter of dishes being washed]. Noise of children getting their lunches and talking simultaneously.]

——: "One tuna sandwich—bottle of chocolate milk—there is such a line you have to wait for hours before you get waited on—I wish more students would bring their lunch so we wouldn't have to wait so long to buy ours."

——: "Say, by the way, did you go to the Kid party?"

——: "No! The unexpected sickness—mumps—kept me from going."

——: "You certainly missed one of the best parties the Class of '42 ever gave."

——: "Why?"

——: "We had a huge Christmas tree covered with beautiful decorations and Frederick Jeserski, our Santa Claus, gave gifts to all the Seniors. The poems on the gifts certainly were cute."

——: "Did they give any prizes?"

——: "Yes, Nancy Clark won the prize for the cutest girl while Wallace Gulliver won it for the cutest boy and Louise Mandirol and Lorraine Ardizoni took the prize for the cutest twins."

——: "Didn't they give any prizes for the funniest girl and boy?"

——: "Wait till you hear! Fred Jeserski dressed as a girl, with a wig, dress, and high heels. Naturally, he won the prize as the funniest girl. Pint Davis, who was dressed as a baby with carriage, bonnet, and bottle won the prize for the funniest boy."

——: "Because we decided upon our class song earlier than any other class, we sang it at our kid party."

——: "Didn't Shirley Spring, Warner Toelken, and Ruth Raison compose it?"

——: "Yes, they did an excellent job of it too. Ruth Raison was also elected to receive the D.A.R. Good Citizen Award."

——: "Speaking of holding outstanding positions, the Senior Class was well represented in Student Council by Don Bennett as President; Ruth Raison as Secretary; Ruth Phelps, Helen Smith, Chuck Tyler, Nancy Clark and Sam Grimaldi."

——: "Didn't our Pro Merito members, Shirley Spring, Ruth Raison, Lorraine Harpin, Elaine Salani, Christina Coughlin, Lorraine Ardizoni and Roland Swanson, under the direction of Miss Smith, go to Ludlow in October?"

——: "Yes, Lorraine told me they had a wonderful time. Say, didn't Shirley Spring, as editor-in-chief of the Agawam Mirror, put out two splendid editions?"

——: "There's about five minutes left. Maybe we can get some dancing in before the bell rings."

——: "Yes, I just love that new public address system the Student Council installed to make the music sound better."

[Dance music heard softly in background—fade out to finish of record]

CHUDDY: [As Honey is writing a letter] "Say, what are you doing?"

HONEY: "Writing. This record made me dreamy; so I've decided to write a few letters to our long-forgotten classmates."

PHELPIE: "Speaking of letters, weren't Eddie Mason, Ray Barbieri and Lou Lovotti the three-letter men of the Class of '42?"

CHUDDY: "It seems baseball was their best-liked sport."

HONEY: "Baseball! baseball! Wasn't it around that time that the Senior Play, 'Ever Since Eve' was given?"

PHELPIE: "Yes, Shirley Linnchan, and Shirley Spring, and Robert Davis certainly made it the best Senior Play ever given."

CHUDDY: "Gosh! The Senior Play certainly started things rolling."

PHELPIE: "Why, I remember the week after the Senior Play, the Dramatic Club produced the One Act Play 'Everything Nice' at Enfield. Mickey Ehrhardt and I certainly got Shirley Spring and Wally Gulliver into trouble in that play."

CHUDDY: "A few weeks after those two famous plays the Junior Prom was given. The Seniors turned out in crowds that night."

PHELPIE: "I'll never forget the Class Banquet held at the Edelweiss."

HONEY: "No, nor the French fried-Mashed-potato debates."

PHELPIE: "I felt sorry for you, Honey, when the French fries won."

HONEY: "Well Graduation soon took my mind off potatoes."

CHUDDY: "Graduation! Gosh! How I wish our class were back in school."

PHELPIE: "We certainly stunned everybody with our caps and gowns that night."

HONEY: "Remember the fun we had at our class picnic."

CHUDDY: "Gee, I wish we could have another class picnic. Wouldn't it be perfect if the rest of the class came here unexpectedly!"

PHELPIE: "Miracles don't happen very often. We'd better stop our wishful thinking and finish our game of tennis."

HONEY: [Putting down the letters] "Never mind the tennis. You two put away the records while I look for wood to start a fire."

PHELPIE: "OH! Boy! We finally eat!"

CLASS WILL

Reader: That intelligent, cooperative, kindly, brilliant, studious, lovable gentleman Mr. 1942 has just passed on. He left to his loving relatives only an old deserted house. It is rumored that he left a lot of money, but in view of the fact that he left no known will there is a conglomeration of opinions. The relatives at the present time have searched the whole bottom of the house and have found nothing. We now look in on them as they emerge into the attic.

Curtain Opens In the center of the stage is a large chest. The stage is dark, and the relatives enter carrying candles. They spy the chest in the middle of the stage and they all rush forward.

Relative One: Quick open it.

Relative Two: Hurry.

Relative Three: Opens the chest and out of it rises a GHOST.

Ghost: I am the ghost of forty-two
I'm here now to welcome you.
I know how you all sighed
When Mr. 1942 died.
He left something for each of you.
I hope that none of you will sue;
So if all of you will be quite still
I'll read Mr. 1942's will.

To the Citizens of Agawam: A new escape-proof jail.

Mr. Phelps: A machine to solve his many problems of rationing.

Mr. Dacey: An appropriation from the Class of 1942 so he can have a full time secretary.

Mr. Langlois: Our wholehearted devotion and thanks for his unselfish sacrifice of time and energy to make our class a success.

Miss Dickerman: Our unexpressable thanks for the millions of big and little things she has done to help us.

To the Faculty: Years and years in which to further the teachings of the ideals of Americanism.

To Jasper: Perseverance to carry on his fine work.

To the Junior Class as a whole: A realization that America is giving them the chance to complete their high school education.

To the Sophomores: The ability to start a successful social career.

To the Freshmen: A better chance to be the best class to ever graduate from Agawam High School.

To the individual Junior Class members we leave:

Shirley Ahern: Somebody to break up her romance.

Barbara Aloisi: Ruth Hauff's poise.

Albina Augustino: A boy to take the place of Raymond Barbieri.

Elsie Avezzie: A private roller skating rink.

Verna Beauchane: Claire Letendre's place as leader of the altos in Miss Perry's chorus.

John Biergel: Another ring to match the one he has so he can make a little money.

Joan Blackak and June Campbell: The Springfield Hockey Team.

Arlene Blanchard: Some of Carol Henry's pep and noise.

Louise Carr: Another year to keep Mr. Langlois's books straight.

John Cartello: A position as first string tackle on the 1942 Football Team.

Gloria Caruso: A horse so she won't spend all her money renting them.

Helen Chmielewski: A book of postage stamps to keep up the morale of the soldiers.

Carmen Cirillo: Powder to cover his blushes.
Earl Cooley: The success his ambition will bring.
Roger Connor: Another happy year with the band and Miss Perry.
June Cordes: A new girl friend.
Andrea Cornfoot: Ralph "Bussy" Heywood.
Donald Curran: A set of workshop tools to continue his excellent work with wood.
Henry Daglio: A year to gather the manners and dignity of a Senior.
Ralph Davis: A farm to help in the "all-out war effort."
Gloria DesRosiers: The ability to chew gum discreetly.
Sandy DiDonato: A pal to take the place of Sam Grimaldi.
Vera Diduk: A cake to replace the one a few Seniors did away with when she was in eighth grade.
Theodore Donais: A gas station all his own.
Alice Draghetti: A book of new jokes.
Jane Durkan: The place as a senior that she deserves.
Elizabeth Eberhahn: A Pro Merito rating.
Ardys Farnsworth: A chance to be Mr. Hadley's chief operator.
Merle Farnsworth: Just a box of pep.
Roy Ferrell: The editorship of the Agawam Mirror.
Norman Francis: Some of Wess Maillard's dash and color to make him more conspicuous.
Shirley Franklin: A chance to further the good reputation of the family.
Lorraine Gallerani: A car so she can get to school on time.
Frank Grasso: 50 pounds to be Eddie Mason's successor.
Charlotte Gravel: The pleasure of taking over Shirley Linnehan's position as Mr. Langlois's secretary.
Edith Gustafson: A pal to take the place of Doris Meehan.
Marjorie Harlow: A trumpet so she can be heard.
Brenda and Joyce Hartley: Another year to excel in sports.
Alice and Marion Haseltine: A position in the U. S. O.
Carolyn Hunt: A one girl reception committee to welcome the incoming pupils.
Frances Kaskeski: More poster contests and more prizes.
Eleanore Kerr: A 48 hour day so she can find time for both Leslie Moore and the band.
Evelyn Lamoureux: Justin Wilke's place as designer of the Mirror.
Marion Langevin: Six packs of student council slips to hand out.
Lucille Lango: A one year's subscription to the Morning Union so she won't need to borrow Miss Ward's.
Theresa LaValley and June Leger: Some new territory to look over.
Alice Levesque: A year to make the final impression of the Levesque family.
Donald Lewis: Another year to guard Miss Belyea's cash box.
Shirley Lunden: More positions as chairman of decorations.
Martha Mabb: A great big reward for her unknown sweet character.
Robert MacPhail: A little more selfconfidence.
Julian Magiera: Something to take up his interest before and after school next year.
Ruth Matteson: An automatic change counter.
Lucy Misischia: Some of the initiative Miss Belyea is forever promoting.
Leslie Moore: We couldn't think of one little thing to give him that would satisfy him.
Dorothy Morris: An opportunity to be first violinist.
Herbert Morris: A tenor, soprano, and alto to go with his bass so he can form a quartet.
Joseph Napolitan: The permanent position as substitute teacher.
Shirlie Neill: Some mascara to decorate those long lashes.

William Neill: Louie Lovotti's place as star of the basketball squad.
Francis Nolin: The well-deserved lead in the 1943 operetta.
Melba Pauze: The honor of graduating from Agawam High School.
Lillian Protzenko: Some orchids for her many fine performances.
Helen Psholka: The first choice for Class Sister in the Class Ballot of 1943.
George Ramah: An opportunity to keep up the family's high scholastic record.
Shirley Regnier: A bigger spoon so she can give the Senior Class more custard.
Helen Reinheimer: One more year to go to another speech tournament with Miss Dickerman.
Althea Safford: A less strenuous way than caring for children to make her millions.
Jamelie Shaer: A 60 Competent Typist Pin.
Ivan Shepherd: A good explanation for his black eyes.
Edward Shibley: Another West Side game to star in.
Robert Smarse: Another successful year in basketball.
Harmon Smith: An airplane so he won't have to follow the curve in the road.
Helen Sopot: A leading role in the social affairs of the Junior Class.
Virginia Spear: Roland Swanson's place as Mr. Dacey's secretary.
Jane Stepanik: A book to write down her recipe for being calm and collected.
Rose Stork and Marguerite White: Something to make indestructible the friendship between them.
Anne Sullivan: Some of Shirley Matteson's pep, vim, and vigor.
Constance Trabold: Some of her brother's unbounding energy.
Ralph Webster: A Jap to use his 22 on.
Alice West: Lemon rinse for her hair.
Norman Wood: Another year to be the lead in the one-act play.
John Wylie: To John we leave George Guidi's jazzy-bow ties.
Ralph Heywood: The captaincy of the football team.
William Pohner: Some memory tablets so he will remember to come to school, and when he does remember, to bring his books with him.
Fred Sosath: An orchestra to go with his piano playing.

As the scene opens, the office is in pitch darkness. Suddenly a light pierces the gloom. It plays over the wall, the furniture, and comes to rest on the desk in the center of the room. The top of this desk is inlaid with a very valuable painting. The Thief crosses to the desk and starts to cut out the picture. The door opens, the lights go on, and so does the play.

[Dorothy and Ruth enter]

Dot: What are you doing here?

Butch: Oh, just picking up a few things.

Dot: Why what's this! My prize spiralism!!! [Dot dashes for a gun. Ruth presses a button, and Lewis Gile enters immediately.]

Lewis: Come peaceably, or I'll have to use force. [Flourishes gun].

Butch: Say, aren't you Lewis Gile from the Class of 1942, Agawam High?

Lewis: Why, yes.

Butch: I thought so! I'd never forget you! Don't you know me?

All: Freddy Jeserski!!!

Freddy: Yes.

Ruth: What are you doing here?

Freddy: Well, as long as you're all friends, I'll tell you. You know Justin Wilke, founder of the famous school of Spiralism——

All: Yes?

Freddy: Well, he and Lorraine Harpin and I have a kind of business. Lorraine manages the selling——

Dot: Why yes, she sold me this one. [Holds it up]

Freddy: Then I steal them back. We're doing quite well, and we dedicate half of our proceeds to the Paul Kerr-Gordon Jones Foundation for Investigating Grapefruit Squirts.

[Shirley enters]

Shirl: Hello, everybody. I've just got back from England. Fred D'Amato has been perfecting his Intelligence Pills at London Hall. Wasn't it funny how he discovered that Elixir of Youth way back in 1945?

Lewis: Yes, he was trying to make Sister Subotin's cough medicine better and slipped. The chemists found that he had stumbled onto something important.

Shirl: Just one spoonful and you live for a hundred years.

Ruth: It's nice, too, that we stay the same as we are physically, and just grow mentally.

[Robot enters with telegram]

Lewis: Toelken has certainly perfected this robot, hasn't he? The one in his workshop can talk, although the mechanical accent is still a little strong.

[Dot takes message; Gile punches buttons, and the Robot picks him up and carries him out.]

Lewis: So long!

Dot: Oh! This is from Charles Tyler. He's reserving our large hall for an anniversary banquet for all his employees. Why, that's right. It was just fifty years ago that he discovered his "Triamonds."

Ruth: Yes, it is harder than the old diamonds and harder to find.

Dot: Look, Chuck sent us this one on the opening of our first club.

Ruth: If it wasn't for John Sopet's Super Excavator, they couldn't be mined at all.

Freddy: Didn't Chuck find one on Drewnowski's farm?

All: Yes.

Ruth: Which reminds me, have you seen those new tearless onions that Helen Drewnowski cultivated? They are wonderful. Lois Barden, the famous cook, has endorsed their use in the Wilson House.

Dot: Jack's certainly done well with his hotel. Of course those foods are nice to eat, but these new pills are so much more convenient when you're busy.

Shirl: Have you any K or Q? I haven't had my supper yet.

Dot: Here. [Hands Shirley Spring pills]

Ruth: Say, Fred, you and Shirley went to the 1999 reunion, didn't you?

Freddy: Yes, we were certainly disappointed that you girls were too busy to come. All the gang were there.

Shirl: Ruth Raison, President of The United World, was the chief speaker. Of course you know that Helen Smith has been appointed Secretary to the Secretary. Our Triple Threat has done well.

Dot: Yes, the last campaign for a fourth term was very exciting. I guess your newspaper was influential in re-electing Ruth.

Shirl: Quite a few of the class are in Washington now. Secretary of the Treasury Swanson and Secretary of Labor Bennett are in Ruth's cabinet.

Freddy: Remember when the joint session of Congress was held? Charles Rood, Representative from Iowa, held a five-day filibuster! Rosso's Remedy for Rasping Representatives surely helped him.

Dot: I heard that the Stapleton Soups, Inc. sent him twenty cases of soup to build him up again. Have you heard Stapleton's latest motto? It's: "Late once; out forever!" How true!

Ruth: What are some of the others doing? I heard that Eddie Mason has invented a new game called Foot-base in Agawam. He's coach, you know.

Freddy: Yes, and Sam Grimaldi and Harry Williams are assistant coaches at Agawam University.

Dot: Who are the teachers at the University now? I heard that the Shaylor girls are teaching the new course in Ethnology.

Freddy: Angelina Mayo is teaching Political Science.

Shirl: Yes, and Lean Zabini is teaching Art. Louise Mandirol is in charge of the Piscatology department and Lorraine Ardizoni is Dean of the University.

Freddy: Boy!!! [Telephone rings]

Ruth: Oh, yes, Claire, send up those ten costumes today. 'Bye. That was the Carol-Claire Shoppe.

Freddy: Carol Frilen and Claire Letendre run that, don't they?

Dot: Yes, we get all our costumes there. Lorraine Couture is the supervisor you know.

Ruth: I saw Hilda Anderson, June Hale, and Rose Maiolo downtown. They were modeling that new shade, Rocket-ship silver, they're featuring in the new seamless suits for fall with Frilen-red accessories. Ruth Grout created the pattern.

Shirl: Nancy Clark and Shirley Linnehan had some smooth majorette uniforms from there at the Agawam-Day parade. Isn't it grand that they're twirling with the Marine Band?

Freddy: Well, all your fashion talk doesn't interst me, though I do kick about the hair styles.

Ruth: What's the matter, Freddy, doesn't your hair dresser do right by you?

Freddy: Well, it's not Fran Farioli. It's just that she can't do it any differently since Stan Loomis, Governor of New England, passed a law that hair styles would remain the same as in 1942. He's just jealous of his own wave. Huh!

Shirl: Now, Freddy, don't be nasty. You know how proud he is of it and how mad he used to get when Clayt Atwater mussed it up. What is Clayt doing now?

Ruth: Oh, you know he's head of that new Cam-Gadget Co. It takes pictures, develops, and prints them in three minutes. [Whirr].

Dot: Darn it! There goes Maillard in his Rocket Ship. If he doesn't stop flying so low—

Ruth: Maybe it's Shirley Matteson speeding again. I heard that Wally Gulliver gave her 15 speed slips! You know he's the head of Sky Patrol. Wes is testing Rockets again.

Shirl: I stayed at the first Fragomini-Franklin Flotel of their floating flotilla, where Madeleine Robillard and Shirley Shadlick are head of the Department of Dietetics. Ray Barbieri is chief taster.

Freddy: I heard that Rose Santinello, Sadie Assad, and Carmella Rosatti are sport hostesses there. Do you sell Kaskeski's Ciga-butts here?

Dot: Oh, yes. They were endorsed by Robert Davis, the great lover of the stage show, 'Ever Since Adam.' Madeline Ehrhardt and Ruth Phelps, those twin coquettes of stardom, are in the show too.

Ruth: By the way, I meant to tell you, I interviewed Priscilla Kerr, Lucille Campbell, Carol Henry, and Doris Meehan for our coming "Rollerette Review." They have developed a new roller-skating style.

Dot: Good, we needed something new on our entertainment program.

Ruth: Anne Chmael and Lillian Ciak are their managers. Did you know?

Dot: No, I didn't.

Shirl: I visited the Calabrese Hall of Music, where Shirley Caron, Marjorie Keefe, Pauline Secord, and Margaret Ross were demonstrating their new method of singing. Thomas Kwiatkowski, the famous announcer for the Karakla's Krackles, the new wonder cereal, was Master of Ceremonies.

Freddy: Say, did you ever hear of the Colson and Guidi Traveling chairs?

Ruth and Dot: No. What are they?

Freddy: When I was coming through Chicago, I rode on one of them. They run by thought-control. All you have to do is think of a place. Then you sit back, and the chairs do the rest.

Dot: Remember the Reunion Picnic where we brought along our weather-control gadgets that were invented by Alfred Montagna.

Ruth: Oh! Yes, DeShane, Manos, and Rivard, Caterers Inc. were in charge. Their hotburgs were swell.

Dot: Would you like some Coughlin's coffee, or would you prefer some Salani tea? We serve them in place of the old-fashioned alcoholic beverages.

All: Not now. Perhaps later.

Ruth: We have just had our club decorated in synthetic marble put out by Perry, Lavotti and Goss, Inc. Lovotti manufactures marbles for children in his spare time.

[Red light]

Dot: Oh dear!

Ruth: There he goes again. [Goes to door. Opens it and looks out]

Freddy and Shirl: What's the matter? Something wrong?

Ruth: It's Gene Tierney this time!

Dot: Oh!

Ruth: It was Lana Turner last night.

Dot: Well, let's go rescue him.

Freddy and Shirl: What———

Ruth: You know how he is when a beautiful girl comes in.

Shirl: Who?

Dot: Why our host, Brownie!! Naturally!!! [Telephone]

Ruth: Hello, Henry. What? Why that's great! Wait till I ask them.

Freddy, Shirl and Dot: What is it?

Ruth: It's Henry Waniowski. He says that he and Frank Evangelist have finally perfected their Time Phase. They can turn back time! They're going to try it out tonight, and he says that we may choose where to go back to.

Dot: Oh let's go back to our first banquet. We had such fun there.

Freddy and Shirl: Yes, let's.

Ruth: All right, Henry, we'll be at the laboratory in two minutes. 'Bye.

[All go out. Lights go out. Suddenly a light passes over the room. Freddy goes to the desk, picks up the painting, and goes out.]

THE PRO MERITO SOCIETY

The Pro Merito Society started their activities this year by attending the division convention in Ludlow. Mr. Stevens of Wilbraham Academy gave an illustrated lecture on Iceland. An innovation this year was giving parties to honor roll pupils.

A short talk explaining the meaning and purpose of Pro Merito started the program of games, quizzes, and refreshments.

At an assembly in March, the five members received their pins. Reverend H. Hughes Wagner, of Trinity Church, Springfield, gave a fine talk to the student body, after which Mr. Raymond Montagna presented the awards to Elaine Salani, Ruth Raison, Lorraine Harpin, Lorraine Ardizoni, Shirley Spring, Christina Coughlin and Roland Swanson; attention was called to the fact that Roland is the sixth in his family to receive the award.

Due to gasoline rationing the state convention was cancelled; so the society ended their 1942 activities with a banquet.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Without a doubt, the Student Council has been more active this year than ever before. Early in December it sponsored a magic show, the proceeds of which paid for the new loud speaking system in the gym. Its next project was an assembly program planned to make the students better acquainted with the council. In the patriotic line, its representatives sold defense stamps each morning in the home rooms, and the council started an honor roll for boys in the armed services who attended or graduated from Agawam. Its last enterprise was helping to launch the Associated Councils of Western Massachusetts made up of student councils from the larger schools throughout this region. The first meeting of this association was held in Northampton in May.

MUSIC

The music department, under the direction of Ruth A. Perry, of the high school has increased materially this past year.

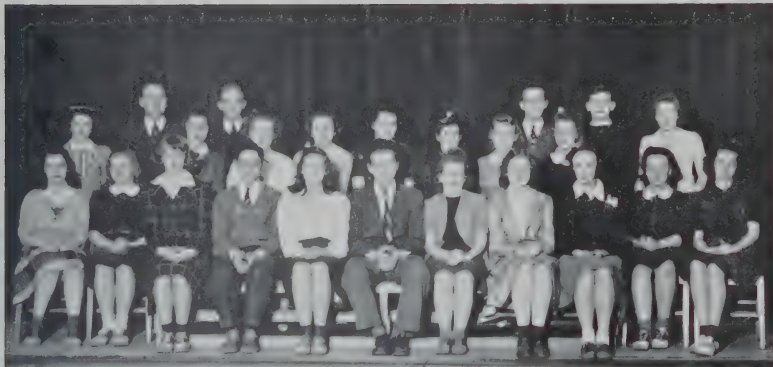

The band has added several new instruments and was invited to play at the Massachusetts State Small School Tourney. It has been a great addition to our home football and basketball games.

In addition to the regular drum majorettes, Shirley Linnehan and Nancy Clark, a group of six girls are being trained to twirl with the band.

The orchestra played at many school functions — the Senior play, graduation, assemblies and the operetta.

"H. M. S. Pinafore", the rollicking story of "The Lass that Loved a Sailor" by Gilbert and Sullivan was the presentation this year. The cast included the following pupils: Lillian Protzenko, Ivan Shephard, Raymond Trabold, Henry Fortier, Frances Nolin, Julian Magiera, Norma Blackburn, Shirley Spring, Robert Smarse while the chorus of Sir Joseph's cousins and the sailors was played by other high school boys and girls.

AGAWAM MASQUE

The Agawam Masque has enjoyed one of its most active years. It has produced four plays: "Youth Adds a Dash of Pepper," "Why the Chimes Rang", the Christmas play, "The Lamp Went Out", a pantomime and "Everything Nice". The last was presented in the Valley Wheel play contest.

The club has sponsored two dances, in the fall and spring, a Christmas party, and sold football programs in addition to its regular meetings, which were followed by moving pictures, skits, and refreshments.

The officers for the year were Wesson Maillard, president; Shirley Linnehan, vice-president; Shirley Spring, secretary; and John Wylie, treasurer. Mr. Paul Langlois is faculty adviser.

TRI - HI

TRI-HI SENIOR MEMBERS

Hilda Anderson, Lorraine Ardizoni, Sadie Assad, Annie Chmael, Lillian Ciak, Lorraine Couture, Christina Coughlin, Aletha De Shane, Madeline Ehrhardt, Columbine Fragomeni, Phyllis Franklin, Carol Frilen, Ruth Grout, Lorraine Harpin, Ruth Hauff, Carol Henry, Bernice Karakla, Marjorie Keefe, Priscilla Kerr, Claire Letendre, Rose Maiolo, Louise Mandriol, Agnes Manos, Shirley Matteson, Doris Meehan, Ruth Phelps, Shirley Caron, Ruth Raison, Edith Rivard, Madeline Robillard, Margaret Ross, Elaine Salani, Pauline Secord, Grace Shaylor, Jean Shaylor, Helen Smith, Shirley Spring, Dorothy Woodruff, Lena Zabini.

TRI-HI

The Tri-Hi Club has enjoyed a very successful year. The theme of the meetings was "Health and Good Looks", and many programs including movies, original skits, discussions, and speakers illustrated the various points. Mr. Frederick Dayton from Springfield, the Misses Smith, Bradbury, and Yuill from Agawam were among the speakers at the invitation of Tri-Hi. Mrs. Mary Carr Baker was a speaker at an all-girl assembly.

Many enjoyable social events were held: a Halloween party; "The Harvest Hop", a fall dance; the annual Christmas party; "A Note for Defense", the spring dance; a spaghetti supper, and the final picnic.

The officers for the year were Claire Letendre, president; Ruth Raison, vice-president; Ruth Phelps, secretary; and Lorraine Harpin, treasurer. A great deal of credit is due Miss Eleanor Miller, the club adviser, and these officers for the achievements of Tri-Hi this year.

FRENCH CLUB

The newly organized French Club has had an interesting program under the direction of its officers Lorraine Harpin, president; Andrea Cornfoct, vice-president; John Wylie, treasurer; Joyce Fell, secretary; and Miss Theresa Bennetti, faculty adviser.

The highlights of the season was a Soiree, or "Evening Party". Claire Letendre, mistress of ceremonies, introduced the program in French. The French Club orchestra and sextet, newly organized, featured in this presentation a tableau and folk dances while community singing finished off the program.

Other events were the Christmas Party and a skating party. With such a firm start the French Club is bound to succeed.

MEMBERS

HI-Y

This year Agawam Hi-Y was reorganized under the supervision of Mr. Frye, and the following officers were elected:

President	GEORGE GUIDI
Vice-President	WESSON MAILLARD
Secretary	RICHARD STAPLETON
Treasurer	WALLACE GULLIVER

The total members numbered about twenty-one. At the first meeting the whole constitution of the club was revised.

The big event of the year was the Agawam-West Springfield Victory Dance. This was a financial as well as a social success. Through the patient efforts of Clayton Atwater, chairman, Wallace Gulliver, and Wesson Maillard, this affair was an outstanding event of the scholastic year.

One of the accomplishments of the Hi-Y was the sending of a representative to the Older Boy's Conference in Brocton, Mass. Wesson Maillard was chosen to represent Agawam, and his report of activities at the Conference tied in very well with Mr. Hadley's most excellent talk on "Cameras as a Hobby and a Vocation".

Another interesting meeting was a joint meeting with Tri-Hi.

CHARM AND PERSONALITY CLUB

The newly organized Charm and Personality Club replaces the Speakers' Club. Its purpose is to promote good etiquette and to create in its members a pleasing personality. The meetings consisted of a series of talks on good manners and the correct thing to do given by different members. Mrs. Mary Carr Baker was the guest speaker at a meeting, her topic being Prom and Banquet Etiquette and the proper clothing for each.

FOOTBALL

Captain, Edward Mason

The largest crowd ever to attend an Agawam Football game, saw West Side edge out the Brownies by a 13-7 score. The 3500 fans who watched this Thanksgiving Day contest got more than their money's worth.

All in all, this season was fairly successful. Ed Mason, Chuck Tyler, and Fred Jeserski were especially effective, and all three were mentioned on the All-Western Massachusetts Honor-Roll.

Other seniors who showed up well during the contests were Sam Grimaldi, Skeex Jones, Noel Brown, Ray Barbieri, Bill Colson, and Hank Waniewski. Among the outstanding under-graduates were Bottaro, Grasso, Heywood, Smith, Hackett, DePalma, Shibley, and Lepore.

Coach—Harmon Smith

Asst.—Raymond Montagna

BASKETBALL

The Basketball Team, a dark horse in the Valley Wheel this year, fought their way to a tie for the League Championship. The highlight of the season was the defeating of West Side. In regular season's play the boys won 11 and lost only 3. On the virtues of their fine performances in the Valley Wheel they were invited to the Massachusetts State College Tournament and worked themselves up to the Semi Finals where they were finally downed in a close game by the Hopkins quintet. Captain Lou Lovotti was the squad's high scorer for the season. Those who saw service in varsity games are: Captain Lovotti, Neill, Magiera, Brown, Barbieri, Colson, Smarse, Taddia and Grasso.

HOCKEY

The hockey team came forward with the best record ever established by an Agawam sextet. Under the guidance of Mr. Wilkinson the boys fought their way to the finals in the Western Massachusetts Hockey Tournament. They dropped this final contest after 17 minutes of sudden death overtime. They finished the season with a record of 5 won and 3 lost. The members of the squad were: Captain Harry Williams, Louis Rosso, Ralph Heywood, Wesson Maillard, Henry Waniewski, Alfred Montagna, Wallace Gulliver, Pat Smith, Leslie Linnehan and Leslie Moore.

L. Lovotti	First base	Guidi	Second base
C. Lovotti	Right field	Grasso	Third base

Coach: Arthur Oulton

Asst. Coach: Raymond Montagna

In the opening game, Agawam was defeated 1 to 6 by the defending champions of Western Massachusetts, Amherst. The squad fared a little better in their second game against Suffield, winning 9 to 7. Agawam appears well on its way toward the top ranks of the Valley Wheel having also beaten Palmer 9 to 0, and Enfield 7 to 5. Bottaro did most of the pitching throughout the season thus far.

TRACK

The Agawam track team has a bright outlook for the 1942 season with veterans such as Mason, Barbieri, Smarse, and Hackett. Captain Ed. Mason holds three records for the Valley Wheel: the discus, javelin, and shot put. The contestants are as follows: Weightmen; Mason, Barbieri, and Brown; Runners, L. Lovotti, Hackett, Pohner, Grasso, and Smarse; Jumpers and Pole Vaulters, Ray Barbieri, L. Lovotti, and DePalma.

Their fine showing in the Valley Wheel meet May 15, where Agawam took first place leaves us with no doubt of their ability. Ed Mason succeeded in breaking his three previous records and set a new Western Massachusetts record in the discus. We know they'll do just as well in the Western Massachusetts Tournament on May 23.

GIRLS' SPORTS

The Class of 1942 has had several outstanding girls' sports teams. Among the unique achievements was their capturing the softball championship while still freshmen. In the past four years these teams have earned their numerals in both hockey and basketball.

The four outstanding athletes chosen as captains for the "College" teams are: Lorraine Ardizoni, Lorraine Harpin, Carol Henry, and Louise Mandrol.
